Ход урока

1. Начало урока. Приветствие. Сообщение целей и задач урока.

T.: Good morning! Do you like it? I think it is eternal problem: money, the shortage of money. If only we had enough money! Today we are going to speak about money, not only about dollars and pounds, but about our roubles too. Today we'll learn to plan our budget and we'll speak about pocket money.

T.: People work for money, they sometimes make friends for money, they love, live and die, for money. Why does money rule the world, why do people need money? Where can we get it and spend it. These are the questions everyone would like to answer.

2. Речевая зарядка.

First of all I'd like you to answer some my questions:

- Do you usually have extra money or do you make ends meet?
- Do you think you can cut down your careless expenses?
- Do you think you are responsible person by the end of the month?
- Do you take part in making your family budget?
- Do you plan your expenses?

3. Проверка д/з (прослушивание).

At home you have read the text “Budget”. Fill in the missing words.

4. Говорение.

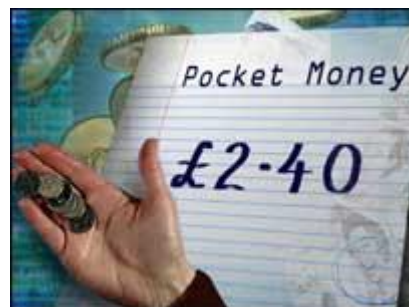

Match the words with their descriptions. (приложение 1).

5. Чтение.

Read the article about how US children spend pocket money on.

What do you spend your pocket money on?

Children in the UK are spending an average of £1.75 a day on the way to and from school, new research has revealed.

According to the survey, it's all going on sweets, chocolate, crisps and canned drinks.

So is this the case for you? And if so, how much do you spend?

Does what you buy with your pocket money during the week differ from weekends and holidays?

Or do you try and save your pocket money - or spend it on something other than snacks?

Whatever you do, e-mail and let us know.

Read the text “Buy Nothing Day”

buynothingday

People have been celebrating ‘Buy Nothing Day’ for over a decade now. It started in 1993 in Canada and is now an international event in 55 countries. It has always fallen on the day after Thanksgiving in the US and on November 26th in the rest of the world. On this day, people try their best not to buy anything at all for the whole day. The idea is to make people stop and think about what they buy and how their spending habits affect the Earth’s natural environment. Just a little effort can make a big difference. Let’s take a look at what happens on Buy Nothing Day around the world...

6. Говорение.

Put the letters in right order. Make a list of things you usually buy in order of priority. Compare you list with the list of US children.

7. Подведение итогов. Домашнее задание.
